

Lilith: A Women's History Journal
NUMBER 1 WINTER 1984

Introduction	1-2
Stumbling Through the Maze Dvora Zion	3-11
Death and the Australian Colonial Family Rodrick Faulkner	12-22
Tea, Scones and a Willing Ear – The Country Women's Association of Victoria, 1928-1934 Pam Roberts	23-30
Women's Status in the Church of England in Melbourne, 1920-1975 Anne Sells	31-42
Women and Socialism in Early Twentieth Century America: A Study of The Progressive Woman Penelope Johnson	43-53
The Woman Rebel – Feminism and Margaret Sanger in 1914 Tess Moloney	54-66
Writing Women's History: Within or Without the Canon? Meg Arnot	67-77
 BOOK REVIEW
Katrina Alford, Production or Reproduction?: An economic history of women in Australia, 1788-1850 Penelope Johnson and Dvora Zion	78